Introduction

Introduction to the Idaho Occupational Wage & Salary Survey

In November 2002 the Occupational Employment Statistics (OES) survey changed from an annual survey to a semiannual survey. At that time the industry classification system was also revised (it changed from the Standard Industry Classification [SIC] to the North American Industry Classification System [NAICS]). The current survey data was collected between November 2002 and June of 2003. In order to maintain sufficient geographic, industrial, and occupational coverage during the implementation of the semi-annual sample and change to NAICS, this most recent data was combined with the annual data collected in 1999, 2000, and 2001.

This wage publication consists of the following sections :

- Introduction (Pages v-ix) The first section, comprised of this introduction, describes the methods and contents of the survey to aid the reader in understanding and using the wage information provided in this publication.
- Wage Tables (Pages 1-83) The second section provides wage data summarized by geographic area:
 - o State of Idaho—all 44 Idaho counties
 - o North Idaho—Benewah, Bonner, Boundary, Clearwater, Idaho, Kootenai, Latah, Lewis, Nez Perce, and Shoshone Counties
 - o Boise Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA)—Ada and Canyon Counties
 - o Southwest Idaho, excluding Boise MSA—Adams, Boise, Elmore, Gem, Owyhee, Payette, Valley, and Washington Counties
 - o South Central Idaho—Blaine, Camas, Cassia, Gooding, Minidoka, Lincoln, and Twin Falls Counties
 - o Pocatello MSA—Bannock County
 - o Eastern Idaho—Bear Lake, Bingham, Bonneville, Butte, Caribou, Clark, Custer, Franklin, Fremont, Jefferson, Lemhi, Madison, Oneida, Power, and Teton Counties

In each of these tables, employment, the average (mean), midpoint (median), entry, and middle range are provided in occupational code order.

A List of Occupations (Appendix A, A1-A13) provides an alphabetical listing of occupations to aid in locating specific job titles.

Occupational Classification System

These OES survey results are the fourth release of Idaho employment and wage estimates using the Office of Management and Budget's Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) system.

The SOC system was implemented in 2000 and data collected prior to 2000 are not directly comparable with previous years' OES occupational employment and wage data.

This 2003 OES survey is the first published with data collected over a three-and-a-half-year period.

Occupations Included in this Survey

The OES survey covers 22 of the 23 major occupational groups under the SOC system; the OES survey does not cover occupations specific to the military. The following 22 major occupational groups are included in the survey:

- Management
- Business and Financial Operations
- Computer and Mathematical
- Architecture and Engineering
- Life, Physical, and Social Science
- Community and Social Services
- Legal
- Education, Training, and Library
- Arts, Design, Entertainment, Sports, and Media
- Healthcare Practitioner and Technical
- Healthcare Support
- Protective Service
- Food Preparation and Serving Related
- Building and Grounds Cleaning and Maintenance
- Personal Care and Service
- Sales and Related

- Office and Administrative Support
- Farming, Fishing, and Forestry
- Construction and Extraction
- Installation, Maintenance, and Repair
- Production
- Transportation and Material Moving

Job definitions for the occupations included in this survey are published separately in the Glossary of Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) Job Titles and Definitions. Copies of the Glossary may be obtained from the Idaho Department of Labor by calling (208) 332-3571 or 1-800-772-2553. The Glossary is also available on the Internet at http://www.bls.gov/oes/2001/oes_stru.htm.

Other Definitions

Average Wage

The average (mean) data reflects a weighted mean. To derive the weighted mean, the hourly wage rate of each employee in a specific occupation is totaled and then divided by the number of employees. Unusually high or low wages can inflate or deflate the average wage.

Employment

The estimate of total number of workers employed for a specific occupation. This is not the number of employees from companies responding to the wage survey.

Entry Wage

This term refers to the average wage paid to those in the bottom third of workers in an occupation. This is an imputed wage measure rather than a surveyed measure.

Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA)

A metropolitan statistical area (MSA) is a county or collection of adjacent counties with a minimum population of 100,000, and with a city or urbanized area of 50,000. MSAs are officially designated by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget. Currently, there are two MSAs in Idaho: the Boise MSA made up of Ada and Canyon Counties, and the Pocatello MSA consisting of Bannock County.

Middle Range

All wages reported in an occupation for each worker reported are arrayed from lowest to highest; the middle 50 percent of the workers is the middle range. This means that one-fourth of the employees are earning wages below the low end of the middle range and one-fourth of the employees are earning wages above the high end. This range provides the user with information regarding the variance of pay within an occupation.

Midpoint (Median) Wage

All wages reported in an occupation for each worker reported are arrayed from lowest to highest; the wage at the absolute middle worker in the occupation is the median wage or midpoint. One-half of the workers in the occupation earned wages below the midpoint, the other half earned wages above the midpoint.

Occupation

An occupation is a set of activities or tasks that employees are paid to perform. Employees that perform essentially the same tasks are included in the same occupation, whether or not they are in the same industry. Some occupations are concentrated in a particular industry; others may be found in a majority of industries.

Survey Code

The numerical code to identify an occupation and its relation to other occupations in the survey is the survey code. This is the fourth consecutive year's survey that has used the current classification system. Read more about the way occupations are grouped together in the next part of this introduction.

More About the Survey

Size of Firm

An industry employment-size stratification method was used to select the sample of firms. With this method, large firms represent themselves in the wage estimates, while smaller firms represent both themselves and a number of other similar-size companies in the same industry.

In cases where the employer had multiple units, the employment at each worksite was used in the stratification.

Data Collection Methodology

The survey form used to collect employment and wage data is a structured, uniform collection document provided by the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics. The same form is used in all states and territories to collect similar data, making the survey comparable between states.

For some large companies, data was collected via personal visit, but the bulk of the survey effort was conducted by mail. Mail and telephone follow-up contacts were made to non-responding companies. Technical procedures are available on the Bureau of Labor Statistics Internet site at <http://stats.bls.gov/oeshome.htm>.

The collection document included a definitions supplement of job titles and job duties. Employers were encouraged to match not just the job title, but also the duties of their workers with the job duties listed in the definitions supplement.

Employers were asked to report the number of employees by occupational classification and by pay range. Only wage and salary-type compensation data are included in the survey results; fringe benefit costs, overtime, production bonuses, incentive pay, and other non-wage earnings are not included.

Timeliness

Accurate and reliable wage surveys take time to conduct. The sample must be designed and selected, data must be collected, coding and editing must be completed, analysis must be conducted, and results must be published. The data for the current panel of this survey was collected between November, 2002 and June, 2003. The US Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics then processed the files (including combining the 1999, 2000, 2001 data with the current panel). These files were returned to states in November 2003. States then had to process the files through an estimates software system. As changes in the survey and process diminish so should the processing time.

Historically and in general, wages do not change quickly. However, occupations and industries that are growing faster than average are also likely to experience rapidly changing wages. For some high demand occupations, especially in the information technology and skilled health care fields, wages have grown at a faster rate than other occupations.

Understanding & Using Wage Information

Wage information is essential to employers, employees, and everyone else who participates in the labor market. Employers use the data to determine whether they are paying their workers a competitive wage, to build wage and salary administration structures, to recruit workers, to find locations where new business operations may be successful, and to maintain internal equity among current workers in an occupation.

Job seekers, students, and other individuals use wage data to make decisions about jobs or careers, to negotiate job offers or promotions, to make relocation decisions, and to decide which educational programs to pursue. Researchers use wage data to analyze trends, and managers use it to design and implement policies.

Matching your job with the survey

There is no single “right” wage rate for an occupation. The economy and the supply and demand of the job market determine the wage an employer is willing and able to pay an employee. The individual employee decides whether or not to accept the wage offered for the job.

Companies differ considerably in the products or services produced, working conditions, size, location, and complexity of work required for different jobs. There are also significant differences between the skills, education, experience, and abilities of employees within each occupational classification. Because of these differences, there is typically a wide range of wages actually paid for a single occupation. The “right” wage for a job is the one that matches the individual employee’s compensation with the work to be performed and the industry; not merely the average surveyed wage.

Therefore, whether you are an employer, an employee, or a job seeker, the best way to match a job with a wage is to match the skills and responsibilities of the job with the skills and responsibilities defined for the surveyed occupation.

All employers do not use the same set of definitions and titles for jobs so it is important to use the definition of duties rather than just the titles to match and compare wage rates. Job definitions are included in the Glossary of Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) Job Titles and Definitions. (To obtain a copy, call (208) 332-3571 or 1-800-772-2553. The Glossary is also available on the Internet at http://www.bls.gov/oes/2001/oes_stru.htm.

You may not find the occupation you are looking for listed in the survey tables. The specific occupation may not have been included in the survey because many job titles are employer-specific. The occupation also may not appear if the level of employment was too low to derive a reliable wage estimate, or publication of wage rates may have disclosed private information for an individual firm.

If you cannot find the exact title you need, the next step is to "benchmark" your job with one that is included in the survey. To do this, find a job definition with similar skills, knowledge, and responsibilities to the one you need and use the wage data for that occupation.

You can also look for information for the specific job you want, or a benchmarked job, within the next larger geographical area.

Using Middle Range Wage Information

It is possible to make some assumptions about the middle range wage data to assist you in determining whether a wage for an occupation is competitive in the labor market. For example, less experienced workers may be receiving pay closer to the low end and more experienced workers may be receiving pay near the high end. The pay for some occupations is very sensitive to area, size of company, type of company, or duties the workers are actually performing. These variables may cause the middle range wages of an occupation to be very broad.

As You Use This Data...

Keep the following four important points about this wage survey in mind:

- First, differences in the way employers perceive the job definition or job title sometime lead to differences in the information reported on the survey.
- Second, pay may vary by area within Idaho. Even in the same geographic area, wide ranges of pay rates for the same occupation are not uncommon. These differences stem, in part, from the degree of competition for workers.
- Third, typically the higher the level of skill, education, and/or training an occupation requires, the broader the labor market area of recruitment. For example, the labor market for engineers may not be confined to the boundaries of Idaho, but may be regional, national, or even international, depending on the special skills required. On the other hand, the labor market for low-skill occupations is typically localized because workers may not wish to commute long distances or relocate for low wage jobs.
- Fourth, although the wage information in this publication is based upon actual wages paid, the data measures only the amount paid to the workers of those companies included in the survey at the time it was conducted. This wage data is not absolute; it is the calculation of wages generated by a statistically valid survey.
